1. Authority and Compliance

This acknowledgment is made pursuant to the laws of the United States and the State in which it is executed, and the Notary Public executing this acknowledgment is duly commissioned, qualified, and acting in accordance with the applicable laws and regulations.

2. Identity Verification

The Notary Public has verified the identity of the signer(s) through satisfactory evidence, which may include government-issued identification and personal knowledge, ensuring the signer's identity is accurate and legally verified at the time of acknowledgment.

3. Voluntariness and Understanding

The signer(s) personally appeared before the Notary Public, acknowledged executing the document voluntarily and with full understanding of its contents and legal effect, and affirmed that the execution was not the result of duress, coercion, or undue influence.

4. Record Keeping

The Notary Public shall maintain a detailed record of this acknowledgment, including date, time, location, type of identification presented, and any other requirements as prescribed by the governing state law.

5. Limitations and Liability

This acknowledgment does not validate the content of the document itself but certifies the identity of the signer(s) and their voluntary execution. The Notary Public assumes no responsibility for the truthfulness or legality of the document's contents.

6. Jurisdiction and Governing Law

This acknowledgment letter and the acts performed herein shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the United States and the respective State, without regard to conflicts of law principles.

7. Enforcement and Validity

This acknowledgment shall be valid and enforceable to the fullest extent permitted by law and may be admitted in evidence in any judicial or administrative proceeding as proof of proper notarization.

8. No Date Included

This document intentionally excludes any date to maintain compliance with specific legal or procedural requirements and to avoid any presumptions about timing of acknowledgment.
